DO'S

> For this season polka dots are the go to pattern for a cheery and fun outfit. Cameron Diaz wears polka dots in a fun and casual way that is both cute and flirty.

Say goodbye to your straightening iron and hello to your curling iron. When it comes to hair, it's all about bounce. Some sexy waves and a little height is what it is all about this season. Long loose curls are fun and can be done easily with some mousse, a curling iron and just a touch of hairspray,

There is nothing more attractive this season than a feminine silhouette. A pencil skirt can compliment the female figure by creating sexy curves. Putting together a black pencil skirt, a colorful wide belt and a good pair of pumps is a great fashion selection for this fall.

Jennifer Lopez shows us how gorgeous smoky eyes can be. Nothing says sexy more than dark eyes with nude and glossy lips. Dark eyes can be achieved with black, gray or purple eye shadow, dark eyeliner and voluminous mascara.

A touch of shimmer on the neckline gives your upper body a sexy glow with any dress you choose to wear. Eva Longoria uses a finely micronized golden powder to highlight her skin. A sweep of powder across your clavicles and shoulders is all you need for that finishing touch on your look for a night out.

DON'TS

1 As much as we love leopard prints for a sexy accent, such as a shoe, a top, or even a scarf headband, using it as a full-length dress is just too much. Maggie Gyllenhaal gives an example of how not to wear leopard print.

2 The infamous thigh high split dress, which Angelina Jolie wears is officially out. Not only can it appear tacky at a formal event, but also it is a trend that only worked in the 80's. The red carpet has seen enough of the thigh high split dress gone wrong, so it is best to just let it go!

3 Many people may agree that a onesie is absolutely adorable on a toddler, however, many people may not feel the same way about it on an adult. Rihanna shows us a prime example of an adult onesie and truth be told, it is not one of her better fashion choices!

4 Christina Aguilera gives an example of how not to wear your make-up. Neon bright pink lipstick may have been hot in the 90's, but for now it is an official don't for lips. Lighter make-up on the eyes with red lips and a hint of rose blush is the way to go. Always Remember darker eye make-up with lighter lipstick, such as nude and lip-gloss, and lighter eye make-up with a more colorful lipstick such as red.

5 The only thing worse than wearing not enough jewelry with a beautiful outfit is wearing too much. Beyoncé looks fabulous and classy in her gown, but ruined the entire look with the bold and overbearing necklace. Never over accessorize with any outfit. Less is more. <
